"One Heart Many Hands," in Devine working on church and homes

Fourteen members of the "One Heart Many Hands," a Nazarene Project, are spending a few days in Devine doing various repairs on the Medina Valley Church of the Nazarene.

In addition to working on the Church the group will also make repairs to homes in the area.

The group members hail from Ohio and are gallantly battling 90+ temperatures as they "fix-up" the Church structure and grounds. With paint brushes and shovels in hand they tackle various projects with gusto and expertise that seems to go beyond their years.

Each day the group travels from their San Antonio hotel to Devine. When I caught up with them on Tuesday morning there were already noticeable signs of hard labor, their paint splattered clothing to their concrete stained hands.

One June 22 the group will join 40,000 fellow Nazarene church members for a six day convention in San Antonio. This meeting marks the quadrennial convention for the Nazarene church members..

Other members of "One Heart Many Hands" are currently all around San Antonio working on inner-city homes and building.
